DIVREI HALEV

WORDS OF THE HEART

"OUR JOURNEY TOWARD SINAI: CHALLENGES WE FACE ALONG THE WAY"

We have entered the Omer period, the fifty days from Passover to Shavuot. Framed by Passover's message of freedom on the one hand, and the Shavuot message of the limitations that Torah places upon a spiritual community on the other, we journey toward a better tomorrow. So often religious life evokes constancy and repetition at such times as life cycle events, the celebration of one festival leading to the next, and regular Shabbat ritual and worship. And yet, religious life is filled with transformation. People's lives change due to circumstances within and outside of their control. Here at Temple Sinai we are fully aware of the change in musical and lay leadership that faces us at this crucial time in our history. What will help us along the way as we go forward in our journey?

The Friday night before the Seder, we honored fifteen individuals whose living examples are a source of inspiration to each and every member of Temple Sinai. Each individual we honored was a member of Temple Sinai in the fall of 1958 and each one has stayed committed to Temple Sinai for five decades, through thick and thin.

Each one of these congregant's devotion contributed to the growth and vitality of this synagogue in very unique and important ways. Some were officers and leaders or have been active members of committees and projects. Others have been steadfast members. Regardless of the extent of their involvement, each and every member's care and dedication resulted in renewed vitality and energy for our congregation despite every challenge that Temple Sinai faced for fifty years.

On Shabbat Behar, Friday, May 16, and Saturday, May 17, we will come together as a faith community celebrating the achievements of Temple Sinai throughout our half-century of history. A very small group of members gathered fifty years ago, ready to face the challenges of a pioneering venture into new territory. Setbacks and frustrations were sure to follow, but so too, were achievements, successes, and promises fulfilled. As heirs to this legacy of a willingness to face life's challenges, may we be as willing to take comfort in the constancy of religion, just as we are willing to stand poised to face the changes and transformations that will mark our journey toward the Sinai in our future.

Rabbi Seth L. Bernstein

SAVE THE DATE!

ANNUAL MEETING OF TEMPLE SINAI
WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4, 2008- 7:30 PM
IN THE SOCIAL HALL
(meeting for Temple Sinai members only)

CHOOSE LIFE!

Much of Deuteronomy is occupied with Moses' farewell address to the Israelites who, by those final passages of Torah, were painstakingly forged into a cohesive and journey-hardened Nation by the greatest Jewish leader that ever lived. Drawn out in a poetic mix of wisdom and sadness, Moses' goodbye to the clan he has repeatedly called "a stiff-necked people" is also an unmistakable renewal of the covenant made earlier at Sinai – his farewell is, it seems, a covenant ratification, of sorts.

To be candid, I have studied Moses and I have studied Abraham Lincoln, both in absolute awe. Not that I ever imagined myself anywhere near their caliber – I only hoped to glean the slightest morsel of insight as to how these ultimate leaders approached their jobs. Midrash too has spent no small amount of energy studying the words of Moses, not only offering interpretations, but constructing idealized leadership principles based on what he said and did. Three components stand out: his views on what a leader must avoid (abuse of power); on the necessity of many people sharing leadership tasks (ideal leadership is not a solo act); and on the core attributes of a leader (ability, reverence for the Divine, honesty, hatred of injustice, wisdom, understanding and knowledge).

Two years ago, I somewhat understood (or thought I did) what I might have to put into the job of temple president. But quite frankly, I was caught completely by surprise by just how much the presidency would give to me – how much it would change me as a person and as a Jew. To every member of Temple Sinai, and to my dear friend and Rabbi Seth Bernstein, I offer great thanks for this gift – the honor of serving as this synagogue's president has changed me forever.

In his exit monologue, Moses issues to the Jewish Nation an order that is both injunction and proposition: "Uvacharta b'chayim – choose life," he tells them. "L'ma-an t'chayah, atah v'zar-echa – so that you and your descendants shall live." I will paraphrase Moses' words, "choose life," by borrowing from my own previous columns and speeches to this congregation: "Keep Judaism Alive." Two years ago, I asked us to form a partnership dedicated to personal spiritual growth and to the renewal of our sacred community. I asked us to forge a covenant aimed at providing for the intellectual, social and spiritual needs of every individual in our synagogue wherever they are on their spiritual journey. In these, my own expressions of farewell, I invoke these same words, and ask us each to "choose life" for a renewal of our covenant to Keep Judaism Alive here at Temple Sinai, for us and for our descendants.

We are blessed at Temple Sinai with a talented and dedicated Board, filled with exceptional leaders who will carry us forward into the second half-century that follows our Jubilee milestone. To each of you who step forward to lead, I wish upon you the same deeply rich experience that has blessed me during my time as president. And I give you the words of Moses, "Chiz-ku v'imtzu – be strong and courageous!"

Moses concluded his parting by ordering the Israelites to "go up and take possession," (referring to the land of Israel). I will conclude mine by saying that the ongoing success of this synagogue is likewise ours for the taking, ours for the possession – if we continue to grow our volunteerism, activism, education, financial participation, and personal involvement. For when we go up and take possession of Temple Sinai and of our Jewish future, we choose life and we keep Judaism alive – for us and for our descendants.

NOTES FROM ROBIN

As the academic year draws to a close, please be sure to join us for these exciting services and events:

May 2nd, 7:30 pm "Friday Nite Live". Our 7-member band, featuring many members of our congregation, leads this participatory, ruach-filled service.

May 16, 7:30 pm. As part of our Jubilee Weekend, we have a special musical service planned, including participation by both our adult and children's choirs.

May 17, 11:00 am Zimriya in Honor of Israel's 60th! Our celebration continues with a musical tribute to the State of Israel's 60th birthday, featuring both choirs and all religious school students in grades K through 7. This wonderful program is not just for religious school students and parents - ALL are welcome to enjoy this delightful presentation!

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR SUMMER SERVICE

Summer is finally just around the corner! And with the nice weather comes the time to start thinking about our annual tradition of lay-led summer services. We would like to give our congregants the opportunity to lead Friday night services. This has resulted in a rich variety of worship experiences. This year's lay-led services will be July 4 through August 22. The service on July 4 and will be led by the Worship Committee.

As you plan your summer activities, we hope you will consider volunteering to co-lead a Friday night service. No experience is required. We will provide you with guidelines if needed, and Rabbi Bernstein will be holding a special session on May 10th from 11:00 - 12 noon, in preparation for conducting the services this summer, using the new Mishkan Tefillah prayer book.

Generally, two or more people lead a service to combine talents and share the readings. We'll be happy to pair you with someone, but you can certainly sign up with your own partner.

If you are interested in co-leading a service or have questions, please email michaelfinkle@yahoo.com. Or contact Noreen Simon at 508-892-3305 or email at wolfsimon@aol.com.

THE GREEN CORNER

 We have received several comments and questions about the pros and cons of changing from incandescent light bulbs to the new compact fluorescent lamps. A good article about these bulbs appeared in the May, 2007, issue of "Popular Mechanics," also available on the web at: www.popularmechanics.com/home_journal/home_improvement/4215199.html.

The magazine staff put some old- and new-style bulbs through a comprehensive series of tests, and their bottom line was as follows: "Even though the incandescent bulb measured slightly brighter than the equivalent CFLs, our subjects didn't see any dramatic difference in brightness. And here was the real shocker: When it came to the overall quality of the light, all the CFLs scored higher than our incandescent control bulb. In other words, the new fluorescent bulbs aren't just better for both your wallet and the environment, they produce better light."

Please take a look at the full article for the complete, detailed analysis.

You are invited to send questions, comments, and suggestions on the Temple's involvement in environmental education and activities to Les Blatt, Environmental Action Committee chair, at lblatt@charter.net.

SEVENTH GRADE MA'OT CHITIM PROJECT

Every year our 7th grade class participates in a project called "Ma'Ot Chitim" to assist Jews within the Worcester community to celebrate a meaningful Passover. The students prepare and deliver festive baskets filled with the essentials of the Passover Seder. On delivery they exchange Passover wishes as well as conversation with the recipients. The experience provides an opportunity for people in the Worcester community to know they are remembered in this season and the students perform a mitzvah that increases their understanding of the needs and diversity of Jews within our area. Students and the recipients can both find this to be a moving experience.

This is also a huge learning opportunity for the students as they, with some assistance from their parents, take ownership of the project from start to finish. We are very proud of their enthusiasm and dedication to fulfill such a mitzvah. This year we were happy to distribute 24 wonderful baskets.

This is yet another time when the Temple Sinai community can be inspired by its youth!

News From Grade K - 1

Kindergarten and first grade have been very busy this Spring. We just enjoyed a wonderful Interactive Seder with the second grade. Thank you to everyone who made it possible. Also we celebrated Purim and what fun the spiel and carnival were. It is hard to believe we have so little time left this year.

Shalom

News From The Fourth Grade

The 4th grade lead Shabbat services on April 11th and did a stellar job! Each student lead the congregation with confidence and grace. We're all very proud of our 4th graders!

As this year draws to a close, it's natural to reflect on what was and look forward to what will be. The children unanimously said that the ice cream party we had after everyone learned the Hebrew letters and vowels was one of their best days!

May 3rd the fourth graders and their families will celebrate their Siddur. Parents and children will cover their prayer books together and parents will write a dedication and share it with the class - and of course a festive oneg will follow!

In June, you will be billed for next year's Religious School classes.

IF YOUR CHILD(REN) IS REGISTERED FOR SCHOOL THIS YEAR, YOU WILL AUTOMATICALLY BE ENROLLED, AND BILLED, FOR THE 2008/2009 SCHOOL YEAR.

If you have a child who is not yet enrolled, please call the office for a registration form.

TOT SHABBAT

Saturday, May 10th will be our next Family Tot Shabbat at 11 AM in the Temple Sanctuary. We begin with an art project followed by a singing, dancing service geared to preschoolers through 1st graders. Cantorial Soloist Robin Sparr-Rothman leads the service at 11:20 am, and then at noon we share a pot luck lunch. All are welcome to join and enjoy, Sinai members and non-members as well. For more information call 508-755-2519, email: singerjelt@yahoo.com, or visit www.templestinaiworchester.org.

Next Tot Shabbat - June 21 at 11:00 AM

FROM THE RELIGIOUS SCHOOL DIRECTOR

Can it be possible that we have only three weeks of Religious School left? The year has flown by!!! The teachers and students are all busy finishing their courses and getting ready for summer. We are also beginning to think about next year.

Watch your mail in June. Progress reports, school calendars and other pertinent information will be sent to you. If you have a child who will be attending Sinai High, you will hear from Robin Milazewski in June. Rabbi Bernstein will contact the confirmation class during the summer.

Our Seder Board Game for grades 3-7 was fabulous! What a wonderful way to experience a Seder! I am so appreciative of Renée Malowitz who was an integral part of planning and putting the program together! Thank you to Lynne Burke, Jennifer Lish and Leslie Schoffemeer for helping out that afternoon.

The fourth grade and their parents will make Siddur covers for their new Siddurs on Saturday, May 3.

On Friday, May 9, the third graders will lead services for the very first time at 7:00, preceded by a family dinner at 6:00, coordinated by Diana Malkin.

This has been a wonderful year due to our fabulous teachers: Gloria Aisenberg, Rabbi Bernstein, Coppi Eder, Bobbi Field, Harriet Robbins, Barbara Rossman, Robin Milazewski, Tali Mugg, Kim Solod-Jette, Robin Sparr-Rothman, Phyllis Spool and Sandy Sotak. I know how hard everyone worked to make our school so successful! Our rabbinic intern, Randy Kafka was an integral part of our Sinai High and Family Education programs this year. Our young emissaries, Chen Hoffman and Iris Yadin were a delight!! They worked tirelessly for our whole community.

I want to thank Lynne Burke and Harry Hubbard for monitoring traffic this year. To Lynne, also, for helping out, as needed, on Wednesday afternoons; to Alison Oberman for picking up challah every week and to Naomi Halpern for being our snack coordinator. I would also like to take this opportunity to thank our smiling students aides: Rachel CaraDonna, Danielle Gilman, Allison Hubbard, Gabrielle Jette, Alyssa Kotin, Hannah Michlmayr, Connor Richmond, Rachel Rosen and Greg Wong.

Reminder: The last day of Religious School is May 17.

Have a wonderful summer!!

Wendy Davis Wong
